PHOTO RULES

1 · SHARP ONLY

✓ Sharp, in focus ✗ Blurry or soft

Only in-focus photos. If a better, sharper photo of the same moment exists, we use that one.

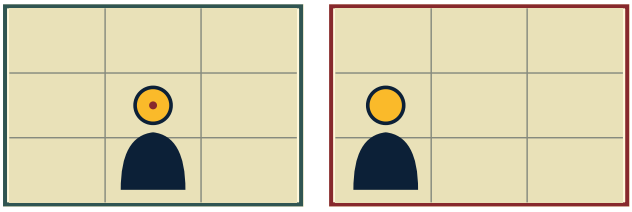

2 · NO EMPTY SPACE

Crop out blank space around the people, so the photo is about them and not the floor, wall or sky.

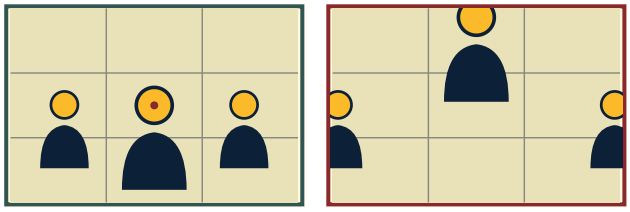

3 · CENTRE THE FACES

✓ Main face in the dead centre ✗ Face pushed to the side

The main face sits on the centre of the grid. Today some photos, like Ground Zero, sit off to one side.

4 · NOTHING CUT OFF

✓ Every head fully inside ✗ Head or body cut off

Every head and face stays fully inside the lines. We never crop through a person.
